

Explore Cook County's Great Outside

Suburban Cook County is made for getting outside. Discover the many ways to get there through Outside Chicago, the place to explore adventures, nature and fun. Find out more at outsidechicago.com.

Across Cook County there are more than 70,000 acres of natural outdoor space, including the incredible Forest Preserves of Cook County.

Trails and Centers
hiking and biking

Water Activities
kayaking, canoeing
and fishing

Outdoor Adventures camping, finding wildlife and more

Outside Chicago is a Cook County initiative that highlights the hundreds of ways residents and visitors can enjoy the county's natural areas in the suburbs. Whether it's a long bike ride, a kayaking adventure or a serene birdwatching hike through the woods, there's something for everyone. Visit outsidechicago.com to learn more.

Visit our website or follow Outside Chicago on Instagram or Facebook for more inspiration.

outsidechicago.com

Outside Chicago is an initiative of Tourism Alive, a Cook County Bureau of Economic Development-led program supporting the hospitality and tourism industry in suburban Cook County.

Tourism Alive is in partnership with Cook County's five suburban convention and visitors bureaus (CVBs): Chicago's North Shore, Meet Chicago Northwest, Rosemont, Visit Chicago Southland, and Visit Oak Park.

For more information on Tourism Alive contact:
Krista Elam, Program Manager
Cook County Bureau of Economic Development krista.elam@cookcountyil.gov
312-630-1051

